Treatments

Skin Resurfacing/Rejuvenation

Combining two wavelengths simultaneously allows for a variety of skin resurfacing and rejuvenation procedures on specific areas of face and neck.

Thanks to controlled thermal diffusion, scars, fine lines and wrinkles can be treated efficiently, addressing the specific needs of each consumer.

Rapid healing is ensured due to the minimal skin damage that normally occurs during the procedure.

Surgical Treatments

---

The Youlaser Family enables the delivery of a variety of surgical treatments, allowing users to perform procedures such as blepharoplasty, rhinophyma, and actinic keratosis.

Multiple spot sizes are available to optimize laser emission for the removal of various lesions, significantly improving patients' skin health.

To deliver these treatments, practitioners need to use specific handpieces to treat skin tissues at deep levels.

Feminine Treatments

Genitourinary syndrome of menopause (GSM), previously known as atrophic vaginitis or vulvovaginal atrophy, affects more than half of women in their postmenopausal phase. This condition, as well as urinary incontinence and general vaginal laxity, can have serious implications for women's quality of life and sexual health.

Shelase is an innovative vaginal rejuvenation laser technology designed by Quanta System to reduce vaginal atrophy and laxity, along with enhance vulvar aesthetics. Vaginal atrophy, characterized by the loss of natural collagen thickness and structural integrity in the vaginal tissue, can occur as a natural consequence of aging or childbirth.

Shelase utilizes a dual laser technology for an effective treatment that involves both non-ablative and ablative resurfacing of the vaginal mucosa. This approach results in significant improvements in patients' quality of life with minimal downtime, allowing for a rapid return to everyday activities.

This feminine treatment is performed to stimulate contraction of mucosa and production of new collagen, to regain the normal vaginal elasticity. Shelase procedures allow women to regain their confidence and take care of their intimate health.
